The Sixth and Seventh Commandments Lesson 10

The Sixth Commandment

The sixth commandment is YOU SHALL NOT COMMIT ADULTERY.

WHAT ADULTERY IS

Probably the first thing most people think of when hearing the word "adultery" is someone having a sexual relationship outside of marriage. This could take the form of premarital sex or an extramarital affair. While these are certainly examples of adultery, the term embraces much more.

	Look us Matthew 19:9. What does this say about adultery?
comma	Matthew 19:9 indicates a situation in which divorce is not in opposition to the sixth andment. What is this situation?
conclus	1 Corinthians 7:15 gives another exception for divorce. Before jumping to the wrong sion, read 1 Corinthians 7:12-14. What is the other exception?
	Jesus has more to say about adultery. As so often occurred when Jesus spoke about the andments, He deepened the meaning of the sixth commandment when He spoke of it. Matthew 5:28. What additional meaning is given to the sixth commandment?
engage	Paul has more to say on this topic. Read Ephesians 5:4. What behavior should we not in?

Finally, read 1 Corinthians 6:18-20. What are we cautioned to avoid?

WHAT MAKES A GOOD MARRIAGE

Now that we know what adultery is, it is time to discuss what makes a good marriage. First of all, marriage is something that can be prepared for (and should be prepared for) well before actually entering into it. It is so important to know that actions and attitudes that are developed in youth will help (or hinder) our marriage.

One of the most important things we can do to help our marriage be a good one is to remain pure before our marriage. This is such a crucial area and goes against much that is said in school, on television, in the news, and by the "experts." Yet, this is what God wants for us. He knows how damaging having premarital sex can be for us. We cannot undo this action. We cannot escape the memories such actions will leave with us. Our marriage partner is the one who is to be special in our actions and special in our memories.

Another important area is that of our attitudes. Some of the most important attitudes we can have are those of caring, consideration for others, sharing, giving. Selfishness is not useful in a marriage relationship. These useful attitudes can be worked on and developed. Think of ways you can work on being more caring of others.

Finally, another important help in having a good marriage is knowing God wants us to respect the marriage vows. Look up Genesis 2:18-24. What does this tell about marriage?

N	Now read Romans 7:2. What does it say?
T	To summarize this section, what are three things that help make a good marriage

7	PURPOSE OF MARRIAGE
	To end this discussion of the sixth commandment, we will look at the purposes of the Bible gives three reasons for marriage.
Ι	Look up Genesis 1:28. What purpose is given there?
L	Look up Genesis 2:18. What purpose is given there?
F	Finally, look up 1 Corinthians 7:2. What purpose is given there?

It is important to remember that marriage is part of God's will for most people. God wants us to honor the vows we make before Him. God wants us to remain pure until we are married. And God wants us to develop attitudes of caring, consideration, sharing and giving. These things will make our marriages good ones that will last.
